Aesop's Fables

Adaptation and activities

by Jane Cadwallader.

Illustrated by Gustavo Mazali.

A lion trapped in a net and an ant in a puddle. Who will rescue them and so gain a new friend?

These are two stories from the Aesop's Fables collection, which have stood the test of time and been read and loved by generations all over the world. At their heart, the stories have important lessons. The first is that, when we need help, it can come from the most unexpected of places! The second is an illustration of Aesop's own saying: 'No act of kindness, no matter how small, is ever wasted.'

Hans Christian Andersen
Hans Christian Andersen's Stories

*Adaptation and activities
by Jane Cadwallader.
Illustrated by Gustavo Mazali.*

These are two of Hans Christian Anderson's most popular stories.

In The ugly duckling the farmyard animals reject a little duck because he is different. In The princess and the pea beautiful princesses turn out to have not very beautiful characteristics and a poor girl turns out to be a true princess. In both stories children are led to be sympathetic to the unpopular characters. The lessons behind the stories are important for children. Think for yourselves, be kind and don't jump to conclusions; you can't always go by appearances!

Martha and the Woolly Rhino

Illustrated by Gustavo Mazali.

Martha the mammoth and her prehistoric animal friends are playing happily together in the wood when Martha discovers a baby woolly rhino called Ryan who has lost his mum and dad.

While Martha and her friends look after the baby rhino, Bella the butterfly sets off in search of Ryan's parents. The fear of getting lost is one readers of this age will readily relate to and the way the young animals look after the baby rhino and imaginatively solve the problem will delight and amuse children.

Martha and the Tiger Party

Illustrated by Gustavo Mazali.

Tessa is a very active sabre-toothed tiger! When she finds out there is a tiger birthday party she is very excited and ready to go straight away. However, the other animals feel she should definitely clean up first!

Martha and friends help her to have a bath, brush her hair and clean her teeth before they all set off together. On the way Sancho the squirrel and the communal present fall into the muddy river. Who is going to rescue them?... And at what cost? The importance of hygiene is one theme of this story. The other is that we should always give a helping hand when we can.

Mark Twain The Prince and the Poor Boy

Retold by Jane Cadwallader.

Illustrated by Gustavo Mazali.

This story by Mark Twain explores the saying: 'The grass is always greener on the other side.' A poor boy and a prince swap places with unforeseen consequences.

Through the story, the reader empathises with the boys' dilemma. They learn what it's like to live in the shoes of the other and their eyes are opened to a new reality. In the end, readers see how the boys take up their own lives again... but with lives enriched by the experience and the lasting friendship which has grown between them.

Aleksey Tolstoy Two Stories About Soup

Retold by Jane Cadwallader.

Illustrated by Gustavo Mazali.

These are two traditional stories around getting the ingredients to make soup.

In the first one, retold in a famous version by Aleksey Tolstoy, who will help grandpa pull up a huge turnip to make soup for his family? In the second, of central European origin, how can a poor man make a delicious soup? Both stories have a strong strand of humour but underlying them are important messages about being ready to ask for and to give help, about the importance of teamwork ... And about using your imagination and ingenuity.

Jane Cadwallader Rumbledumble and the Storm

Illustrated by Gustavo Mazali

Some children help their parents to learn that, although we are different, we can all help each other.

Most of the people in the village don't like Rumbledumble. He's very big and a bit scary. The only ones who aren't scared are the children of the village who often go to his house to play. It takes a storm to change things. How? What happens? Read and find out!

Oscar Wilde The Giant Rumbledumble

Retold by Jane Cadwallader.

Illustrated by Gustavo Mazali.

Young readers might well see themselves in the selfish giant, based on Oscar Wilde's classic, who doesn't want to share his favourite possession.

Through the story they see how our actions not only affect others, but can also boomerang back and affect ourselves. They can empathise with the sad and lonely giant locked into his own cold selfishness and celebrate with him the realisation that if we give happiness to others we feel it ourselves too. Above all, this story is a humorous look at accepting and correcting the mistakes we make in life.

Jane Cadwallader Maxi's Adventures

Illustrated by Gustavo Mazali.

Rumbledumble's greatest loves are: Anna and the other children, his garden and his little dog Maxi.

When Maxi gets lost Rumbledumble and the children search everywhere for him. But Maxi is far away in another, very different, world. Will Maxi get back? Will Rumbledumble find him?

This is a story about the loyalty between a man and his dog, about determination and about how help is not all one way; sometimes children can help adults too! It's also about being kind to a stranger ... Even when that stranger is a little dog!

The Legend of Robin Hood

Retold by Jane Cadwallader.

Illustrated by Gustavo Mazali.

This adventure story tells the beginnings of the legend of Robin Hood, a legend that has fascinated generations of children.

It starts when Robin Hood comes home to England after fighting for King Richard the Lionheart. He finds that his house has been taken over by the bad Prince John and his servant the Sheriff of Nottingham. Robin goes into Sherwood Forest where, along with Maid Marion, he forms a band to fight back against the bad Prince and the Sheriff and to defend the poor.

School Detectives

Illustrated by Gustavo Mazali.

This story tells the adventure of two children.

One is studious and interested in all scientific things. The other is energetic and sporty. Although they live next door to each other and go to the same school, they never speak... until one day something changes all that. Kim and Tony learn to appreciate each other's skills and to bring these together to prevent a crime.

Children learn through them that critical thinking and collaboration can solve problems and that you don't have to be the same to be friends.

Charles Dickens Oliver Twist

Retold by Jane Cadwallader.
Illustrated by Gustavo Mazali.

This is perhaps the most well-loved story by Charles Dickens.

Dickens asked his readers to 'have a heart that never gets hard'. As readers follow the life of Oliver Twist, a poor orphaned boy struggling against the dangers of life in 19th-century London, they can empathise with his childhood in a workhouse and his life with a gang of pickpockets. They can also share his relief that there were some good people, ready and willing to rescue a child in need.

Jules Verne

Journey to the centre of the Earth

Illustrated by Gustavo Mazali.

Jules Verne was a master of adventure stories. He also wanted children to think about nature.

This story asks them to wonder what is under the ground and if there is another world there. It is told by a young man, Axel, who with his uncle and a guide go down under the Earth through the crater of a volcano. The children follow them through tunnels and caves to find strange plants and animals and have exciting adventures. It's a story about natural phenomena but also about persistence, initiative and courage in the face of the unknown.

Our Water. Our World

Illustrated by Gustavo Mazali.

How we look after water is something that will greatly affect the future of our Earth and the wellbeing of its inhabitants.

This book asks children to think about the questions: What do you know about water? How much water is there on Earth and why is it so important? What do you know about the animals that live in our oceans, rivers and lakes? Are we looking after this vital natural resource? It also tells three stories from different parts of the world about how children have dealt with problems related to water.

The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn

Retold by Claire Moore.

Illustrated by Alessandro Pugiotta.

“We don’t stop at any towns for days and days. We just keep going down the river.”

This is the story of Huckleberry Finn and his adventures on the Mississippi river. Huck’s father kid-naps him from his new life with a kind old lady called Widow Douglas, and hides him in a hut. Huck escapes and goes down the river. He meets Jim, a black slave, and they travel down the river together. We read about their adventures and troubles, and how they meet Tom Sawyer again.

Tribal Voices: the Awá

A Journey with Little Butterfly into the Amazon Rainforest

Don't miss to read Little Butterfly - an Awá teenager girl - story and learn how she spends her daily life in the Amazon Rainforest.

The Awá know their forests like we know the layout of our home. Everything the Awá need comes from the jungle. Their shelters are made from tree branches and palm leaves. The trees' fibres are used to create hammocks, and they collect honey climbing to the tops of the tallest trees. Sadly, the forest in which the Awá live is being destroyed and Little Butterfly wants everybody to know.

Robert Louis Stevenson The Strange Case of Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde

Retold by J. Borsbey and R. Swan.

Illustrated by Alberto Macone.

The novella's impact is such that it has become a part of the language.

Jekyll is a famous London doctor, but something unusual is happening in his house. Who is his strange young friend? Why does Jekyll like him? And why does no-one else like him? Stevenson's dark thriller is the story of one man's need to find himself in the dark, foggy London of Victorian times.

Bram Stoker Dracula

Adaptation and activities

by Janet Borsbey and Ruth Swan.

Illustrated by Valerio Vidali.

Although Stoker did not invent the vampire, he defined its modern form.

When Jonathan Harker travels to Transylvania to meet Count Dracula, he soon realises that he has made a big mistake. What is happening in the lonely castle? Where does Count Dracula go during the day? Why are there no mirrors? Bram Stoker's classic story takes us, and Count Dracula, from the Transylvanian castle to a small port on the east coast of England. Then we move to London, in a desperate fight to save people from the new, the terrible, Un-dead.

"A Pure Woman Faithfully Presented"

The story, set in a poor rural area of England in the 19th century, centres around Tess Durbeyfield, a sweet, innocent, country girl who is a victim of fate and her own beauty. When her lazy father finds out that his ancestors were the noble d'Urberville family, he dreams of winning back this glory for his own family. Tess, 16 years old at the start of the story and the eldest of seven children, is pushed by her parents to go and work for Alec d'Urberville who will change Tess's life in a dramatic way. In the middle of the chaos caused by Alec d'Urberville, Tess meets Angel Clare. Will he love her forever as he promises, without judging her for her past? Or will Alec d'Urberville become her master? Read and find out.

E.M. Forster A Passage to India

*Retold and Activities
by Alice Venessa Bever.
Illustrated by Lucia Sforza.*

“Passage to more than India!
O secret of the earth and sky!”
W. Whitman

The book is set in the 1920's in India and is a story of Dr. Aziz, an Indian doctor, his friend Mr. Fielding, a British professor and two British women Mrs. Moore and Miss Adela Quested. Due to an incident occurring in the fictitious Marabar Caves (based on the Barabar Caves of Bihar, India), the characters find themselves in the turmoil of a changing India which highlights the prejudices and racial stresses between Indians and British.

A Passage to India whose title comes from Walt Whitman's famous poem "Passage to India", is one of E.M. Forster's most famous novels and based on Forster's experiences in India.

Charles Dickens A Tale of Two Cities

*Adaptation and activities
by Janet Borsbey and Ruth Swan.
Illustrated by Giacomo Garelli.*

A Tale of Two Cities* is Charles Dickens's most famous historical novel.

Set in Paris and London at the time of the French Revolution, this is the story of two men, Frenchman, Charles Darnay, and Englishman, Sydney Carton. As the Revolution takes hold and the Terror begins, the two men's destinies bring them together in a powerful story of love, hate and revenge. We meet revolutionaries and aristocrats, and see the poverty of many in both London and Paris contrasted with the wealth of a few.

E. A. Poe Stories of Mystery and Suspense

*Adaptation and activities
by Janet Borsbey and Ruth Swan.
Illustrated by Simone Rea.*

Those who dream by day are cognizant of many things which escape those who dream only by night.

In this reader you will find nine of Edgar Allan Poe's most famous stories of mystery and suspense.

They range from Gothic historical stories such as The Pit and the Pendulum, through to detective fiction like The Murders in the Rue Morgue and an early science fiction tale - A Descent into the Maelström.

Ghostly mysteries such as Ligeia and The Fall of the House of Usher are also in the collection along with Poe's masterpiece study of madness The Tell-Tale Heart.

James Joyce Dubliners

*Adaptation and activities
by Janet Borsbey and Ruth Swan.
Illustrated by Martina Merlini.*

Joyce's first major work, written when he was only twenty-five, brought his city to the world for the first time.

An ambitious mother, a boy in love, a lonely older man, a cynical intellectual and a girl who dreams of a life in another country are just a few of Joyce's Dubliners. In these realistic tales, Joyce reveals the hopes, fears and disappointments of his characters. He also shows us turn-of-the-century Dublin in fascinating detail. This selection of eight stories from Dubliners includes Eveline, Araby and a two-part adaptation of Joyce's novella, The Dead.

Mary Shelley Frankenstein

*Adaptation and activities
by Elizabeth Ferretti.
Illustrated by Rodolfo Brocchini.*

'After many more days and nights of study, I discovered exactly how life was created. With this knowledge I became the first man in history to have the power to create life from death.'

Victor Frankenstein is a young, ambitious scientist who wants to make a better world, but does not understand the consequences of his work. Victor makes great advances in the study of medicine and biology and creates a new species of human being – one that is so terrifying it is known simply as 'the monster'. In this fantastic adventure story, Victor and the monster fight an epic battle of courage and endurance.

William Makepeace Thackeray Vanity Fair: A Novel without a Hero

*Retold by Michael L. Freeman.
Illustrated by Gloria Pizzilli.*

"Our story begins just outside Miss Pinkerton's Academy for Young Ladies at Chiswick Mall in London. A large family carriage is waiting for two young ladies, Amelia Sedley and Becky Sharp."

Vanity Fair was written 200 years ago, but it is a thoroughly modern story that provides us with universal truths about what it means to be human, in all its splendour – and with all its imperfections. It is a story full of memorable characters who accompany you on a fascinating journey through the first part of the nineteenth century.

Virginia Woolf Mrs Dalloway

*Adaptation and activities
by Richard J. Larkham.
Illustrated by Antonio Marinoni.*

Mrs Dalloway* is a novel that details a day in the life of Clarissa Dalloway in post-World War I. It is one of Woolf's best-known novels.

London 1923. The First World War has been over for five years, but the effects are still being felt all round the metropolis. A socialite and politician's wife prepares for one of her famous parties while somewhere else in the city an old friend contemplates the pain of past and present love, a war veteran struggles with his inner demons, and other characters live out the uncertainties and dramas of post-war English society. All touch each other in some way with their actions, directly or obliquely.

Syllabus

Verbs: Past Simple, Past Continuous, Present Perfect Simple and Continuous, Past Perfect Simple and Continuous, Future will and going to, Phrasal verbs. Modal verbs: Could/could have (past ability), Should/should have, Will/shall, Would/would have (habitual action/future in the past), Might/might have (future/present/past possibility), Must/must have (obligation/past deduction), Must not (prohibition), Need not (necessity)

Francis Scott Fitzgerald The Great Gatsby

*Adaptation and activities
by Richard J. Larkhman.
Illustrated by Rodolfo Brocchini.*

Scott Fitzgerald's third novel was published in 1925 and has justifiably become a 20th century literary classic.

"Gatsby?" asked Daisy urgently. "What Gatsby?" Could it be the same young army lieutenant whom Daisy Fay met five years ago – and who owns a sumptuous house on Long Island, where New York society enjoys the best parties on offer? Is it just coincidence that Gatsby lives across the bay from Daisy – now married to wealthy polo-player Tom Buchanan? Midwesterner Nick Carraway is drawn into the dark world of Gatsby's past and present a world of hidden frustrations and superficial relationships which perfectly illustrates the "careless and confused" nature of America's Jazz Age.

Syllabus

Verbs: Present perfect simple and continuous, Past perfect simple and continuous with time clause by, Future tenses, Phrasal verbs.

Modal verbs: Could/could have (probability/past ability), Should, Will, Would/would have (future in the past), Might/might have (present/past possibility), Must/must have (present/past deduction), Must not (prohibition)
